Market Research for Real US Companies

Project Title	Market Research for Real US Companies
Project Summary	Are you passionate about international business? Join one of the most dynamic new programs in the US Department of Commerce to help rural exporters find new markets.
Country	United States

Project Description

You will assist in developing market research that will help rural US companies find the best countries for their products. A strong background in Excel and a love of market research are the most important qualifications for this position. This is a newly launched program that is helping build international capabilities within rural American companies. We are a passionate and well organized team delivering high quality research to real companies.

Required Skills or Interests

Skill(s)
Data analysis
Editing and proofreading
Marketing
Research
Writing

Additional Information

For more information, visit this website: https://www.trade.gov/rural-export-center

Language Requirements

None